Transforming Your Outdoor Environment

Inspired by the outdoor environment. Energised to be physically active. Keen to investigate and find out about the world around. Confident to take risks and try things out. Highly motivated by the opportunity to think creatively and play imaginatively. In a high quality, well-resourced outdoor environment where adults engage effectively with children to support and extend their ideas – all of these things are possible and more.

At Early Excellence we are passionate about inspiring young learners and committed to helping you develop the very best practice. So whether you are rethinking your outdoor space or equipping a brand new area, we can help you to create an outstanding environment that meets the developmental needs of young learners.

We provide a comprehensive range of quality outdoor resources that enable children to be physically active and play in ways that support learning across the whole curriculum – as well as fully resourced outdoor stores to completely transform learning.

For immediate advice about our fully resourced stores, or for help in reviewing and planning next steps for your outdoor environment, please contact us.

Liz Marsden
Founder & CEO

Transforming Practice with Early Excellence

If your outdoor area is looking a bit bleak and you feel uncertain about how to develop it – then Early Excellence can help you to transform it into a well-organised vibrant space, full of rich learning opportunities for children.

Over the last 20 years we have supported 1000's of schools to transform their practice both indoors and out, being trusted for our expertise and the quality of the training and resources we provide to help you to achieve outstanding provision.

We tailor our approach to meet the specific needs of the schools and settings we work with and are able to plan a programme of resource development and staff training for you to ensure that outdoor learning is as effective as indoor learning.

Benefits

- Gain expert help to plan your outdoor provision
- Invest in specialist resources to equip every area of learning
- Receive on-site support and staff training to build confidence and enrich understanding of best practice

‘Your support was really valuable in enabling me to improve my outdoor area to make a real impact on children’s learning.’

Jane Laverack
Teacher, Hoyland Springwood School, Barnsley

‘Our new store has absolutely transformed our outdoor area. The children are able to access resources independently – giving them freedom, challenging their thinking and motivating them to learn. We are thrilled with the difference it has made to our outdoor provision!’

Barbara Tierney
Tuel Lane Infants School, Sowerby Bridge

Designing Environments with Expert Support

For advice about how best to equip your outdoor learning environment – whether a new area or an existing space – simply contact us for help. One of our Curriculum Consultants will work with you to discuss your vision, review your current provision, identify your needs and create a detailed list of all the equipment required to transform your outdoor environment.

We specialise in resourcing outdoor classrooms from 3-7yrs and help to develop Nursery provision, Reception and Y1 outdoor environments as well as shared spaces. We provide a fast and efficient delivery service and help you to install all of your outdoor resources and storage. We also provide on-site consultancy and training to support and upskill staff.

‘We have an unusual outdoor space, and it was through our work with Early Excellence, who inspired and supported us, that we were able to provide an exciting, dynamic, challenging and well-resourced area which offers opportunities for children to become independent learners and explorers outdoors.’

Building Best Practice with Quality CPD

Achieving effective practice outdoors relies on the strength of knowledge, confidence and enthusiasm of the team responsible for learning and teaching – so as well as investing in high quality provision, it is critical to invest in appropriate CPD – and this is where we can help.

Early Excellence can work with you to develop a bespoke programme of support that will empower your team and help them to maximise learning outdoors – deepening staff understanding of how to organise the outdoor environment, plan a good balance of activities and interact effectively to support children’s learning, progress and overall development.

‘Very informative! Great ideas to get us headed in the right direction – especially as we are starting outdoor learning from scratch!’

Christy Guy
Teacher, Middleton St Mary’s School, Leeds

Benefits

- Work with an experienced Consultant to help you plan your outdoor curriculum
- Receive on-site training to support staff in deepening their knowledge and understanding
- Gain confidence in talking about the impact of learning and teaching outdoors

Physical Development

What better way to keep physically active than with these large-scale resources that combine to make an infinite number of interesting structures. From simple dens to fanciful vehicles, the opportunities for creative thinking are immense.

The size of resources and the way they connect together make them challenging to use, giving rise to the need for collaboration and a great deal of persistence! They offer significant opportunities for children to develop their physical skills, both gross and fine motor, whilst engaged in creative and critical thinking with their peers. An essential resource of any good outdoor area.

Collaboration & Communication

Den building is a key interest of young children that can be embraced to support key learning. Whether children are erecting a ready-made den and playing in it, or are designing and building their own structure, the process requires a great deal of thought and imagination – and most often leads to a high degree of co-operation and collaborative play.

Dens also offer a great space for role play, with children developing their social skills, language and communication as they engage together to re-enact familiar experiences and events – and make believe their own stories.

Mathematical Thinking

Encouraging your children to invent and play games outdoors is a great way to bring maths to life. Making number lines, knocking down skittles, throwing bean bags and marking out cones are all exciting physical activities that ignite children's passion for learning.

With a wonderful selection of natural materials you can plan an outdoor curriculum rich in maths, where children engage in combining materials to make the most intricate designs – full of structure, order and pattern – all of which help to develop a deeper understanding of number, shape, space and measure.

Science Investigation

Having the opportunity to explore water on a grand scale, with such a diverse range of quality, open-ended materials, is both exciting and challenging for children. The resources offer many ways to engage children in problem solving as they find out about how to move, redirect, capture and transport water.

Adding a mud kitchen will bring much delight, enabling children to investigate and develop their language for thinking – as well as their physical skills, collaborative play, social and emotional development. So much learning, with so much fun!

Knowledge of the World

In the outdoors children experience all that the changing seasons bring and with just a few investigative resources and a great range of non-fiction books, it is easy to harness children's fascinations and develop their understanding of the world around them.

Digging and gardening, collecting bugs, exploring movement, wind and air are all key interests that children find enjoyable, making it easy to develop these experiences in ways that deepen children's knowledge and understanding of the natural world and enhance their physical skills, language and communication.

Creative & Expressive Art

Small world animals are a fantastic resource for developing children's everyday storytelling, creativity and language. With just one animal a whole story can emerge, as a patch of mud becomes a water hole for the hippopotamus or the long grass, a hiding place for Tyrannosaurus Rex – so watch out!

Offering a wide range of textiles, natural and colourful objects outdoors can also bring creative thinking to life as children explore pattern, art and design. Adding weaving mats and frames will bring new creative challenges and provide opportunities for developing fine motor skills, concentration and persistence.

Keeping Warm & Dry

Playing outdoors with soil, mud, sand and water is great fun – but can be very messy even on a warm, dry day!

With this great range of outdoor clothing, your children will be free to explore and make as many muddy puddles as they want! The design and waterproof qualities make the range ideal for everyday use.

There are wellington boots, waterproof jackets and trousers for water play on cold, windy days, as well as bibs and braces to keep dry in warmer weather when a jacket will be too hot.

Product Safety

Early Excellence have a specialist, highly experienced and qualified team that develop and select all of our outdoor equipment and resources. We provide products which meet the learning and developmental needs of children.

When working with children, practitioners should remember that some children have less life experience than others. Children may not see and understand the consequences of their actions related to hazards and risks during their play. It is therefore the responsibility of the practitioner in the school/setting to select suitable resources that are age, stage and developmentally appropriate. The practitioner must consider the environment they will be used in, the needs and ages of the children and staffing levels – which take into account experience and qualifications of staff.

Artefacts and special resources are suitable for use with older children. These resources will need specific consideration for their use because they may be delicate and will need careful handling.

Buying Guide

This section provides an overview of our outdoor stores, ready-made collections, large equipment and accessories, making it easy for you to review the full range. The ready-made collections are also available online along with smaller sets and individual products.

Choose the Right Size of Store

To support the development of outdoor learning we supply a wide range of outdoor equipment which has been designed to fit perfectly within our outdoor stores.

All of the 12 outdoor resource collections we supply fit within the Large Outdoor Store with the large equipment organised around the sides and smaller equipment displayed on the shelves and hooks provided.

The smaller stores fit four resource collections each – so for a fully equipped outdoor curriculum you'd choose three small stores or one large one – dependent on your space.

Create Inspirational Indoor Environments for EYFS & KS1

'I thought I'd share some fabulous news! Not long after working with Early Excellence our practice was externally reviewed and the team were impressed with so many aspects – it was truly outstanding! Thank you for all your help.'

Martyn Payne
Headteacher, Pakefield Primary
Academy, Lowestoft

'Your consultants are quite exceptional. I had lots of really useful discussions with a knowledgeable adviser who turned my blank floor plans into vibrant classrooms.'

Annette Williams
Headteacher, Barnton Community
Primary, Cheshire

Gain Inspirational CPD for the Whole Team

Early Excellence is synonymous with quality and to ensure that the schools and pre-schools we work with gain the best possible support, we lead a wide range of CPD through our National Centres, our Partnership Hubs and on-site in individual schools and nurseries.

A full calendar of our Centre CPD, National Events and Regional Training can found online along with information about our development projects and the bespoke training and consultancy provided by our expert Leadership Team, EYFS and KS1 consultants.

Benefits

- Expert support from EYFS and KS1 specialists
- No nonsense, practical advice for leaders
- Clear guidance and inspiration for teachers
- Inspiring ideas and tips for classroom assistants

Partnership Hubs

Through our growing number of Partnership Hubs, we can bring professional development opportunities to your locality. To find out about training in your area go online at earlyexcellence.com/national-services or email nikki@earlyexcellence.com

Visit Our Centres & Be Inspired

To bring inspiration to the Early Years community and provide a 'home from home' for everyone passionate about working with young children, we lead the work of two unique and specialist Centres located in the heart of London and in the North of England.

These Centres have become a vital destination for leaders and practitioners across the country – offering an environment packed with innovative ideas to inspire best practice in Early Years and inform active, independent learning in Key Stage One. The Centres are open to visitors throughout the year, Monday to Friday, from 9am-6pm – and you are welcome to arrange a visit to support your professional development at anytime.

How to Order

Ordering is Easy

However you order, you can pay by credit or debit card and if you are an existing customer you can pay on account, requesting an invoice to be sent to you. For schools and settings wishing to set-up new accounts simply send us your order as normal, and we will do all the work!

Resources Delivery

We take great care in packing our resources and try our best to deliver within 10 days of receiving your order. To mainland UK, delivery is £6.75 and free for orders over £100.00. Delivery to Highlands, Isle of Man, Isle of Wight and the Channel Islands will incur an additional charge, please enquire.

Furniture Delivery

Our furniture is delivered, free of charge, by our own delivery team. We try our best to deliver exactly when you need it, within 10 working days of receiving your order.

Variations

Many of our resources are produced in a variety of colours and styles and may vary slightly from those shown, however we guarantee that you will always receive the same quality and value.

Returns

We hope you are pleased with your new furniture, resources and storage, but if for any reason they are not quite right, you can return them unused at any time within 14 days of receipt.

Terms & Conditions

Early Excellence products are used by young children of immature judgement. They are NOT intended for unsupervised use. The buyer assumes all risk of injury or applicability to a particular use.
