Planning for Improvement, Innovation & Impact

In a continued climate of challenge and change, ensuring that children make the best possible start to their education has never been more important. Early Excellence remains committed to providing high-quality professional development that supports this goal and responds to national priorities, including the new DfE Writing Framework and forthcoming Ofsted updates.

Through our mix of online webinars and onsite Host School courses, we offer a wide range of training and development opportunities. Inside this programme, you'll find CPD for all levels – from courses that strengthen core practice and quality teaching in EYFS and KS1, to inspiring bitesize sessions that inform and upskill your team.

Our offer also includes national updates, specialist seminars and leadership conferences featuring experts such as Professor Julie Fisher and Professor Sam Wass, plus the launch of our Outdoor Roadshow – a national series of events helping schools unlock the full potential of their outdoor environments.

By connecting with Early Excellence for CPD, you and your staff become part of a passionate, forward-thinking learning community. We look forward to working with you in the term ahead.

Spotlight on EYFS

Strengthening Writing Outcomes

Join us for this practical and insightful course designed to support early years and leadership teams in developing children's early writing skills. Focusing on child development and current research, the session offers practical strategies to build children's confidence, motivation, and ability to write.

We will explore the national picture and key research on early writing, examine developmental stages from mark-making to storytelling, and share effective ways to inspire and challenge young writers. Participants will gain practical guidance for creating rich writing environments, extending narrative skills, and supporting children to become confident, capable writers.

Continuing the Journey: Transforming Practice in KS1

Join us for an inspiring day exploring how schools are reimagining KS1. While early years learning is active and play-based, KS1 can often feel very different. Across the country, schools are transforming their approach to create rich, engaging and developmentally appropriate experiences for every child.

Keynote speaker Professor Julie Fisher, author of Moving on to Key Stage One, will share why change in KS1 is both necessary and transformative. Hear from teachers and leaders reshaping their practice and join workshops packed with practical ideas, inspiring pedagogy and real success stories.

Help shape the future of KS1 learning.

Discuss Your CPD Needs Today

We hope this brochure has given you an overview of some of the high-quality, face-to-face and online training opportunities led by the Early Excellence Team, which will upskill your team and ensure best practice in the early years and beyond.

But when the need to develop outstanding EYFS and KS1 pedagogy becomes one of your strategic priorities, then let's connect and explore together how we can work in partnership to make a difference with our more bespoke options.

Our Senior Team are on hand for an initial discussion to explore your additional training needs and share further information about the different ways in which we can support your specific priorities. You might start by commissioning a review of your EYFS or KS1, or by exploring a one-off event in school or Trust wide. Alternatively, you may wish to explore more intensive, sustainable support to rapidly transform practice in a specific class, phase or school.

Whether you have a question around our CPD programme or are considering a more bespoke approach to training or consultancy, we'd be thrilled to be a part of your journey to excellence, so do reach out – we'd be delighted to connect with you.
